

Movement On Foot To Have Congress Construct Canal To Connect Winchester With Kentucky River

$350,000 Will Build Water Way For City and Reduce Transportation Charges 50 Per Cent—Kentucky Congressmen Favor Measure.

Winchester has always been noted for doing things in the "Winchester way," i. e., of accomplishing results by quiet, earnest effort and without any "blowing of horns" in advance. This latter remark doesn't, of course, apply to the baseball fans nor to a few individual "bazoo blowers."

The very latest and one of the greatest of these efforts for the future of "Greater Winchester" has been going on for weeks and so quietly that only a very few outside of The News' people and the engineers (and even their identity has been kept secret owing to their official position.)

Makes a Scoop.
The News has as usual made a "scoop" on the details of the great enterprise that means so much for the future growth and prosperity of the city of Winchester and the county of Clark. The News today gives a few of the details for the first time to its thousands of readers.

In brief, Winchester is now the premier city of the fourth-class in the State in wealth and population. It is also the "Gateway City" of Eastern Kentucky, and it is its railway center. Freight rates in consequence are lower than any city similarly situated in the South.

Other Advantages Sought.

Many of our enterprising citizens, however, have for some time felt that still further advantages in this line should be accorded to us. In furtherance of this idea, it was decided some weeks ago at a little meeting of a few of those who "make things happen" when they get their heads together to discuss ways and means for adding to the future glory and greatness of the "Gateway City," and the grand county of Clark, that additional transportation facilities were absolutely necessary as well as additional water advantages.

It is well known that Kentucky River sweeps along the southern shores of the county for about 25 miles and it is also known that it has been locked and dammed from its mouth to the Lee and Estill line, and that another year will see the completion of this great system to the Three Forks of the river in Lee county and up these forks for many miles, thus opening up practically inexhaustible areas of coal and timber. It also enables steam boats to ply the year round from Louisville, Cincinnati, St. Louis, New Orleans, Memphis and Pittsburgh to the southern borders of the county.

Mean Much to City.

To have these great natural arteries of transportation reach Winchester, would mean that Winchester would quickly jump to the position of being the third or fourth city in the State and leave Lexington and other outlying suburbs so far in the rear that they could not catch Winchester even with an up-to-date moving picture machine.

To enable Winchester to do this, a lock canal from Kentucky River to the southern suburbs of the city should be constructed. Three feasible routes presented themselves for consideration and a quiet reconnaissance was requested by engineers of experience and all three routes were pronounced practicable.

Liberty of Land Owners.

The liberality of the land owners along the different lines should determine the location as the cost will be about the same in each case and it goes without saying that land values along the lucky line will be greatly enhanced, so much so, in fact, that each owner would be justified in donating this right of way.

It is proposed also to have a row of trees on either side as well as a boulevard along one bank of the canal. At the terminus near the present city limits would be the principal pool or harbor basin with the usual wharves and docks for loading and unloading and a belt line railway track to connect with the railway lines on the north side would follow. A beautiful park and driveway would also surround it on three sides. The basin and the canal would also be stocked with fish from the Government hatcheries.

The Cost of the Canal.

The cost of the canal, with turnouts and passages sufficient for the latest style barges and boats, including the now celebrated Lomb system of steam and electric boats as adopted by the Ohio canals, would be, including locks, about $350,000. As the Government can easily place its bonds on a 2 per cent basis, as in the case of the Panama Canal, the interest would be only $7,000 per year while the tolls will easily meet this, and at the same time reduce freight and fuel charges to us fully fifty per cent.

Effect of the Enterprise.

The effect of the completion of this great enterprise on the already wonderful progress of Winchester can hardly be estimated even by the most optimistic citizens. To bring about this most desirable consummation, it was decided to interest our Congressman and Senators, and the following bill was prepared and sent on for which they hope to secure an early passage:

"Whereas, it has been represented to the Congress that Winchester, Ky., being now the largest city of the fourth-class in said State and that it is situated within eight miles of the Kentucky River which stream has been locked and dammed by the United States, and,

"Whereas, it is represented that the commerce population and general business of said city would be more than quadrupled in a short time by the construction of a lock canal for boats and barges from said stream to said city, therefore,

The Proposed Bill.

Be it enacted by the Congress of the United States in special session assembled under call of the President:

Sec. 1. That the sum of $350,000 be appropriated for the construction of a canal by the most feasible route from Kentucky River to the environs of said city, conditioned, of course, that the right of way for said canal be donated by the land owners along the line and that said city of Winchester furnish without charge to the government a tract of land sufficient for a harbor basin, wharves and suitable roadways from the principal streets of the city to the basin wharf.

Sec. 2. Charges for boats and barges passing through the locks and along said canal shall not exceed the minimum tolls now allowed by similar canals in the United States.

Sec. 3. The county of Clark shall exempt said canal from all county district and school taxes and jurisdiction over said canal shall be ceded to the United States Government.

Sec. 4. Surveys for the location of said canal shall be completed and work begun on said canal on or before April 1st, 1910.

Sec. 5. If any land owner shall refuse to donate the right of way, the city and county authorities may condemn enough land for such purposes as provided by law and at the expense of said city and county.

Sec. 6. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Splendid Possibilities.

That this bill which is fraught with such splendid possibilities for the good

CHIEF CRAZY SNAKE, WHO LED CREEK INDIAN BAND TO WARPATH IN OKLAHOMA.

Chief Crazy Snake, leader of the band of full blood Creek Indians that took the warpath in Oklahoma and fought the sheriffs of several counties and the state militia, has given the authorities trouble for years. Ten years ago he went on the warpath and was captured after a hard chase by a detachment of United States cavalry. He never became reconciled to the dissolution of tribal government, he and his followers maintaining that the United States had not kept faith with the Creeks in regard to tribal government and the allotment of lands. Crazy Snake, who is otherwise known as Wilson Jones, is fifty-eight years old. His grandfather was a chief and a party to the treaty with the United States in 1832 in which the Creeks were invested with tribal rights in what was then the Indian Territory.

BREAKS INTO STORE AND SAFE

Burglars Steal From Roe, Winans and Scott Wednesday Night.

The store room of Roe, Winans and Scott was entered by burglars Wednesday night and about $6 in cash and a check for $1.60 was taken from the safe.

The burglars entered the building by unlocking the front door. They also worked the combination of the safe and prized the cash drawer open and it is thought by the authorities that some one who is well acquainted with the place, did the job. Officer Tanner left this morning for Lexington with a warrant for the arrest of the suspected party.

COMMERCIAL CLUB PLANNING IMPORTANT BUSINESS MOVES

Membership Committee Working For Diamond Pin and Adding Many Members to the Club.

The Canvassing Committee of the Commercial Club is meeting with great success but there are yet many good citizens who have not joined. The club is doing great work for the city and they should be encouraged by rounding up at least four hundred members.

The Railroad Committee met Thursday morning and decided to take action in regard to the L. & E. depot. If they cannot get the officials to begin their new building they will appeal to the Railroad Commission, as the club feels that the present shanty-boat, which is called a depot for lack of a better name, is not such a building as Winchester has the right to demand.

The Entertainment Committee has decided to give an opening session of the club at the opera house the latter part of this month, when a full report of the workings of the club will be made. Distinguished speakers from home and abroad will take part. The Committee has not yet perfected their plans but they will get up a most enjoyable entertainment which will be free to all and ladies will be especially invited to attend.

Mr. Ernest Paynter Visiting His Relatives After Naval Cruise Around World.

Mr. Ernest Paynter, of the United States Navy is here on a visit to his mother on Wynn avenue, and to his brother, Harry, Superintendent of the Mountain Central Railroad. Mr. Paynter has served nearly eight years in the navy and occupies the position of Chief Yeoman on the battleship Rhode Island. He was on the cruise around the world.

When asked what he considered the most interesting country visited, he answered, "Japan" and the two most interesting cities, Yokohama and Tokyo, Japan.

Mr. Paynter is a graduate of the Winchester High School and has at all times been very popular. He thinks that there is no place like Winchester and expects to return here at the expiration of his term of enlistment which will be in about eight months.

BIG LAND SUIT IS FINALLY COMPROMISED FOR $30,000

Col. H. P. Thomson Secures Settlement With Harmon in Controversy Over Sale of Old Ballard Farm Property Made in 1890.

In 1890 Col. H. P. Thomson was the owner of the Ballard farm. The old farm house was near Boone avenue and what is now South Maple street. The farm was south of the residence, and extended on the Boonesboro road for nearly a mile, the south part extending through to the Two Mile road, now known as South Main street.

On this property is now located the best residences in the city. At the extreme south end the Fair grounds are located. In February, 1890, Col. Thomson sold to Harmon and Talbott a two-third interest in the property at the rate of $600 per acre.

This Was Beginning of Boom.

This was the beginning of the Winchester boom. Streets were laid out and some lots sold. When the bottom fell out of the boom Harmon and Talbott refused or failed to make good.

In 1891 Col. Thompson filed suit and got judgment for $35,000, but was unable to collect. Harmon went to London, England, where he became prominent as a promoter. Among other things promoted by him was a railroad in Ecuador that he carried through to completion.

Carried Case to England.

Col. Thompson carried his case to London where he secured judgment against Harmon. Talbott having taken the bankrupt law. Recently Col. Thompson with attorney D. L. Pendleton went to New York and through attorney D. W. Armstrong, and a banker—E. Hope Norton, who represented Harmon, a compromise was effected for the sum of $30,000, which has been paid.

Judge J. M. Benton before he became Circuit Judge was attorney for Col. Thomson and later Pendleton, Bush and Bush represented him.

The property over which the controversy arose with the improvements is now worth nearly a million dollars.

CHIEF SHOWS WILY NATURE

Soldiers Unable to Locate Crazy Snake—Weather is Wet and Raw.

Pierce, Okla., April 1.—Reports that Chitti Harjo is hiding in some secluded gulch in the Tiger mountains, about six miles from here, have been confirmed. His surrender, it was said, might be expected within a few hours.

It was learned that Crazy Snake's inquiry as to protection in case of surrender was not official, but was communicated in a round-about way, in keeping with the characteristic cunning of the man supposed to have sent it.

On Monday night an Indian boy came to the home of Dr. M. K. McWherry at Brush Hill, six miles from here. The boy said the old chief had suffered a slight gunshot wound in the calf of his leg last Sunday, but was able to move. The lad declared that the fugitive wished to surrender if Dr. McWherry would guarantee fair treatment. Then the messenger disappeared as mysteriously as he had come, leaving the physician, an old resident and friend of the Creek leader, to wonder how to reach the latter with an answer. Since that time it has, it is said, been the inability of Colonel Hoffman to find where to deliver his assurance of safety, that has prevented the surrender of the much-sought red man. Even Crazy Snake's sister could not or would not indicate his whereabouts.

The weather has been raw and wet and it seems certain that Chitti Harjo, despite his years and his wound, has been exposed to all the severities of the weather, as every habitation and shelter has been searched for him in vain.

The expiring bluster of the month is expected to hasten the further scattering or the surrender of other Creeks. They are not well clad and have no provisions save such as may be obtained surreptitiously.

Colonel Hoffman called to his aid a well known and respected Creek of Checotah, John Thompson. Thompson, who is a hardware dealer, is a friend of Chitti Harjo, and was given Colonel Hoffman's authority to promise the Creek chief perfect safety and a fair trial if he would surrender.

Colonel Hoffman spent the entire day in searching for his hiding place. Detachments of troops and squads of detectives scoured the country in every direction, despite the rain and short rations.

Mexican Tax Collectors Killed When Property is Confiscated.

EL PASO, Tex., April 1.—Rebelling at the attempt of the authorities to collect taxes and confiscate property, the Temosachic Indians in the state of Chihuahua broke into open warfare, killing several officials, terrorizing the town of San Andreas and cutting the telegraph wires.

The Indians then sent out a general call for reinforcements to resist the enforcement of taxes and the confiscation of property. Two trainloads of troops have been sent from Chihuahua to quell the rebellion.

King Offers to Sell Throne.

LONDON, April 1.—Circumstantial reports continue to emanate from Vienna concerning the probable fall of the Serbian dynasty. It is alleged that King Peter has informed the British minister at Belgrade of his intention to abdicate if he is guaranteed a yearly allowance of $50,000. At the British foreign office it was stated that nothing is known of such a proposition.

NEW BILL OF LADING OPERATIVE THURSDAY

Goes Into Effect on Louisville and Nashville Railroad April First.

Beginning April 1, the standard bill of lading of which so much has been said during the last six months will go into effect on the Louisville and Nashville. The new bill of lading is expected to eliminate many perplexing propositions which have always bothered the shippers and the railroads in the past.

All business firms who have been using the old bill of lading and at the present time have a supply of them on hand will be allowed to use them if they are stamped "Subject to the terms of the standard bill of lading." A brief description of the bill of lading which goes into effect Thursday is as follows:

Features of New Bill.

1. One form for use in connection with what are termed "straight" consignments, consisting of (1) Shipping Order; (2) Bill of Lading and (3) Memorandum Acknowledgement (all to be printed on white paper.)
2. One form for "order" shipments consisting of the (1) Shipping Order (to be printed on blue paper), (2) "Order" Revised Standard Bill of Lading (to be printed on yellow paper), and (3) Memorandum Acknowledgement (to be printed on blue paper). This form shall be used only for order consignments; it will not be permissible to accept order-notify shipments on straight bills of lading.

The following notice has been sent out to the shippers of this city by the management of the Louisville and Nashville railroad in regard to the new bill of lading:

General Notice.

Effective April 1, 1909, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company will adopt the standard bill of lading, on and after which date the shipper may have the option of shipping property either subject to the terms and conditions of the standard bill of lading, or under the liability imposed upon common carriers by the common law and the Federal and State Statutes applicable thereto—i. e., if the shipper elects to ship under the terms and conditions of the standard bill of lading and shipping order, the rates provided in the respective classifications and tariffs will apply. If the shipper does not sign the shipping order, the property so carried will be at the carrier's liability, limited only as provided by law, but subject to the terms and conditions of the standard bill of lading insofar as they are not inconsistent with such common carrier's liability.

The one who wish to secure the new bill of lading may get them by applying to the railroad offices mentioned.

PLANS TO GET PURE SEED CORN FOR STATE

Commissioner Rankin Unfolds His Scheme—School Boys Interested.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 1.—In order to awaken interest in farming among the schoolboys of Kentucky and also supply every county in the State with the best grade of seed corn, M. C. Rankin, Commissioner of Agriculture, has devised a plan which he thinks will accomplish what he desires. He will send out a bushel of Boone county white seed corn, pure bred and of the best quality, to each of ten counties, the corn to be distributed to the schoolboys. The ten counties were selected by Prof. J. G. Crabbe, Superintendent of Public Instruction. The corn will be planted by the schoolboys, and the result of their farming will be exhibited at the county farmers' institute, where prizes will be offered for the best corn grown for the samples.

The corn from these ten counties will be returned to the Commissioner of Agriculture and it is expected that at least thirty bushels will be gathered from the ten that are planted. The next year thirty bushels will be sent out and the same programme followed. In this way the entire 119 counties in the State can be supplied with the corn, and not only can the farmers get seed corn in this way, but the boys of the State can be interested in agriculture and perhaps be led to stay on the farms instead of going to the cities to live.

The counties selected by Prof. Crabbe are Pulaski, Christian, Graves, Muhlenberg, Hart, Caldwell, Fleming, Johnson, Shelby and Warren. Each of these counties will receive a bushel of corn and the school teachers have promised to see that the corn is distributed to boys who will plant it. In explaining the plan Mr. Rankin said today:

"Realizing the great importance of the teaching of the elements of agriculture and real object lessons in our schools, I offer this plan to the citizens of Kentucky and show my sincerity and desire to help by starting this movement, which, I predict, will be a source of increased revenue into the pockets of the farmers and the laying of the foundation stone in many farmers' sons successful life in agriculture."

"Knowing that I must have the co-operation of the school authorities to forward this movement, I will ask the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to select the counties in Kentucky, covering all the different sections of the State, that are progressive and will help in this movement. Then I will ask the county school superintendent to select one district in his county which is the most progressive, and for him to accompany the representative of the agricultural department at Frankfort to this school district and enlist the school trustee of that district in the work. These three persons to go to that school and make the following offer:

"The agriculture department representative will take a bushel of pure-bred, improved seed corn and give to the pupils that signify their intention of planting the corn, cultivating it, and show ten ears of this corn harvested from this planting at the county farmers' institute to be held in that county at a place and time designated by the Commissioner of Agriculture and under his supervision. For this purpose the Commissioner of Agriculture appropriates $100 from the money appropriated by the State for the Bureau of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics for the ten schools selected, $10 being given to each school, to be divided as follows: For the best ten ears of corn grown from this distribution a prize of $4 will be given; for the second best a prize of $3; for the third best $2 and for the fourth best $1.

"The judges of the contest will be selected by the county institute, being three in number, and shall not be related in any way to any child growing and exhibiting this corn. The corn shown becomes the property of the agricultural department of the State, to be distributed the following year in similar manner as above.

"If this plan proves satisfactory and the school authorities and patrons of the schools will take hold of this proposition in the right way in three years every school district in the State will be supplied with pure-bred seed corn as a result of this movement."

WILLIE WHITLA, HIS FATHER AND THEIR HOME.

The kidnapping of Willie Whitla of Sharon, Pa., was the most sensational episode of its kind next to the Charley Ross case that ever occurred in this country. The child is held to millions, and his father readily agreed to the demands of the kidnapers and paid $10,000 in cash for the return of the lad. Charley Ross, who was stolen in 1874, was never heard of after he disappeared from his home in Germantown, Pa.

ECZEMA A GERM DISEASE.

Myriads of Microscopic Animals In-fest the Skin of the Sufferer.

When the skin of an eczema sufferer itches and burns in untold agony, do you know what is going on within the pores of that skin?

Myriads of microscopic animals are gnawing at the flesh, breaking down the fine cells and causing festering thick scales and that terrible itch. The germs multiply faster than Nature can throw them off.

Now, there is only one way to get rid of these germs—they must be killed in their lodging places. Dosing the stomach or trying to cure the blood will not, of course, kill the germs, and that is why all the blood remedies fail in eczema; that is also why salves which do not penetrate can do no permanent good.

Ordinary oil of wintergreen properly compounded in liquid form will penetrate the pores of the skin and kill the eczema germs. If properly mixed with thymol, glycerine and other ingredients (as in D. D. D. Prescription) this wash will build up the tissue of the skin and promote its healthy growth, giving Nature a chance, while killing the germs faster than they can multiply.

Phillips Drug Co., of this city, carries D. D. D. Prescription, also D. D. D. Soap in stock.

NEW BUILDING AND SAVING ASSOCIATION

Many Leading Citizens Decide to Incorporate "The Home"—Solicitors at Work.

Winchester is to have another Building and Saving Association. Messrs. T. G. Barrow, S. D. Goff, Vic Bloomfield, V. W. Bush, R. P. Scoobee, B. A. Tracy, Isaac Brown, T. W. Brock, Jno. C. Allan, B. R. Joubert, Will S. Duty, James S. Winn, Glenmore Combs, R. P. Taylor, Newton Powell, D. L. Pendleton, J. W. Wheeler, Owen Fitch, Sam K. Hodgkin, Frank Murphy, M. D. Royce, S. T. Prewitt and D. B. Hampton who are back of the new enterprise met Thursday morning and decided to organize and incorporate at once, the new Building Association, which will be known as The Home Building and Saving Association and will have an authorized capital limit of three million dollars.

Solicitors for stock were put to work Thursday morning and already several hundred shares have been subscribed. It is thought that there will be at least five thousand shares subscribed by the middle of April, at which time the new company expects to begin operation. The articles of incorporation are being prepared and will provide among other things that the stock shall be paid for at the rate of 25 cents per share on each Saturday night, except the first Saturday night in each month, when the dues will be 30 cents per share, the additional 5 cents going to a separate fund, known as the expense fund.

The money is to be loaned to the stock holders at the rate of 6 per cent per annum to be paid monthly and when there is any surplus in the treasury the company will be authorized to invest same in good paying bonds and real estate securities. The charter will further provide that a member may withdraw by giving thirty days' notice at which time he will be paid the full amount paid by him, less his portion of the losses if any, and expense fund.

The greatest number of shares that any one class may have will be five thousand, and the highest that can be held by any one stock holder in a single class will be 100. It is the intention of the company to organize one class each year until they have as many as six classes in operation, and as soon as the articles are filed with the Secretary of State, which is expected to be done on Saturday of this week, a meeting of the stockholders will be held at which time the directors and officers of the association will be elected.

The men behind this movement are our best citizens and business men and assures the success of the new association from the start. It is such enterprises as these that build up a city, and Winchester gladly welcomes this new enterprise.

Governor Then Decides to Drop Probe of Delaware Home.

Columbus, O., April 1.—It was announced following a conference between Governor Harrison and Superintendent Dye of the state industrial school for girls that there probably would be no investigation by the executive as a result of two girl residents being brought to a local home for medical treatment. The governor was satisfied with explanations made by the superintendent. Prosecutions against men accused by the girls may be made in Delaware county, where the home is located. The governor was informed that the institution, owing to the large number of cases taken up under the new juvenile court act, was now crowded to double its anticipated capacity.

Columbus, O., April 1.—T. W. Mr. McGovern thinks he might have gone from there to Bloomington.

AMEND ANTI-TRUST ACT, SAYS HARRIMAN

Railroad Magnate Gives His Ideas of Model Government.

Chicago, April 1.—Edward H. Harriman arrived here, and while his car was in the switching yards waiting to be hitched to a train for New York he submitted to interviewers. Concerning tariff reform Mr. Harriman said:

"If the government had revised the tariff, or given the country a good currency law, or both, we would not have had the Landis decision, and we would not have had all this wasteful prosecution of corporations, nor all of this hostile legislation against railroads, and the country would today be going along swimmingly."

He said the government should amend the Sherman anti-trust law to meet the changed views of the people. He also advised the newspapers to quit talking about the regulation of railroads and insist that the people regulate the government by insisting that the new administration should not wring more money out of the people before it has learned how to expend it wisely.

Mr. Harriman spoke strongly in favor of tariff revision, and favored combinations of railroads where economy demands them.

You Cannot Answer These Questions!

1—Why do you continue bathing your knees and elbows one at a time, when you can stretch out in a full bath tempered to suit you, and can do so every morning if you wish?

2—Why pump and carry water for your kitchen and laundry work when you can have it at hand for the turning of a faucet?

3—Why take chances on drinking germ-filled cistern water when you can get it from a large reservoir filtered through the best filter plant South of the Ohio River?

4—Why have a dry, dismal-looking yard when you can have it filled with green grass and blooming flowers, and can at the same time get rid of the dust in the street?

5—Why suffer other inconveniences when you can have everything for the comfort and health of your family right in the house?

6—Is it not true that the answer is not "lack of money," but lack of economy and enterprise and indifference to getting the most out of life?

Rev. Father McMahon Was Director of Fidelity Funding Company and Indorser of Many of Its Notes—Impossible to State His Liabilities in Connection With Affairs of P. J. Kieran, Owing to Ramifications Through Two Sets of Books.

Cleveland, O., April 1.—Rev. Father William McMahon filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy before Judge Taylor in the United States district court, giving his liabilities at $1,500,000 and assets at $75,000.

His insolvency is stated to have grown out of the failure of the Fidelity Funding company of New York, which was promoted by P. J. Kieran. Rev. McMahon is said to have been a director of the company and indorsed many of its notes.

Receiver Is Busy Untangling Affairs of Fidelity Funding Company.

New York, April 1.—From information gathered in circles familiar with affairs of the Fidelity Funding company and P. J. Kieran, it was learned that the direct liability of Rev. Father McMahon through the failure of the Fidelity Funding company, as appeared on the face of the accounts, was about $20,000.

It was stated, however, that until there had been a complete audit and comparison of the company's books and the private accounts of P. J. Kieran, for whom a receiver in bankruptcy had been named, it would be impossible to ascertain the extent of Father McMahon's obligations. Even then, it was said, it was doubtful if the exact status of the account could be learned, as the transactions were involved and hard to trace in their ramifications through the two sets of books.

WAR ON BILLBOARDS

Cincinnati Conducting One of the Most Successful Fights.

SIZE OF BOARDS LIMITED.

Why Municipal Regulation of Outdoor Advertising Is Advocated—How Illustrations Are Restricted—Value of Crusade's Effective Methods.

From many cities in various parts of the United States the American Civic association has received recent reports telling of the progress of the campaign against obnoxious billboards. This work of the American Civic association and affiliated organizations has resulted in a tremendous public sentiment against objectionable outdoor advertising, and the progress is in spite of the increased energy of the advertising interests.

One of the most successful campaigns against the offensive billboards is that in Cincinnati, where the Business Men's club is seeking a reasonable control of the billboards. One of the most active in the movement is Murray Shipley, prominent manufacturer and a member of the executive board of the American Civic association.

Two restrictive measures have been proposed—one now pending before the Cincinnati councils for a proper regulation of billboards and the other to be introduced in the Ohio legislature. In the new municipal building code it is proposed that no billboard shall be erected without a permit; that a fee of $10 shall be paid for a board 7 by 10 feet, with $5 for each additional seven lineal feet or fraction thereof; that billboards of wood shall not exceed two feet in height, that all in excess of two feet shall be of metal and that no board shall exceed 500 square feet in area.

By the terms of the proposed state measure it is provided to have municipal regulation of billboards, with power to license the erection of advertising boards. This bill will exclude for advertising purposes parks and the residence parts of cities in which sections a majority of qualified voters favor prohibition of billboards. It proposes to limit billboards to 7 by 10 feet, not less than twenty-five feet from the street, and provides that each board shall have independent supports. Illustrations depicting or describing in words or characters, or both, the commission of any crime or misdemeanor are forbidden, as are obscene and immoral advertisements.

Mr. Shipley, who advocates billboard regulation, said:

"We must not be ashamed to stand up boldly for everything which is beautiful whether it is a great work of art or a beautiful hillside which is threatened with billboard desecration, and let us insist that we are entitled to look and see the landscape as nature made it and not as disfigured with wooden cows or half made highballs. Aside from this one all sufficient reason, there are many other reasons why billboards should be under reasonable control."

First, upon the aesthetic ground we are entitled to have our sense of sight not offended against any more than our sense of hearing or smell. Billboards detract from the value of adjacent property. Hear this testimony from Nathaniel Hinchman Davis, president of the Central Trust and Safe Deposit company: "One of the illustrated cards you inclose happens to be directly in point as illustrating actual financial loss to the property owners caused by the expensive and unsightly billboards, for it is affecting the rental value of property we control situated in that neighborhood."

After exhaustive inquiry into the subject the Cincinnati Business Men's club received a report from its special committee, to which was appended an extensive plan of campaign against billboards and billboard advertising. In a general way education appeals to advertisers, and requests for the co-operation of real estate owners have been the main features of the campaign begun eighteen months ago.

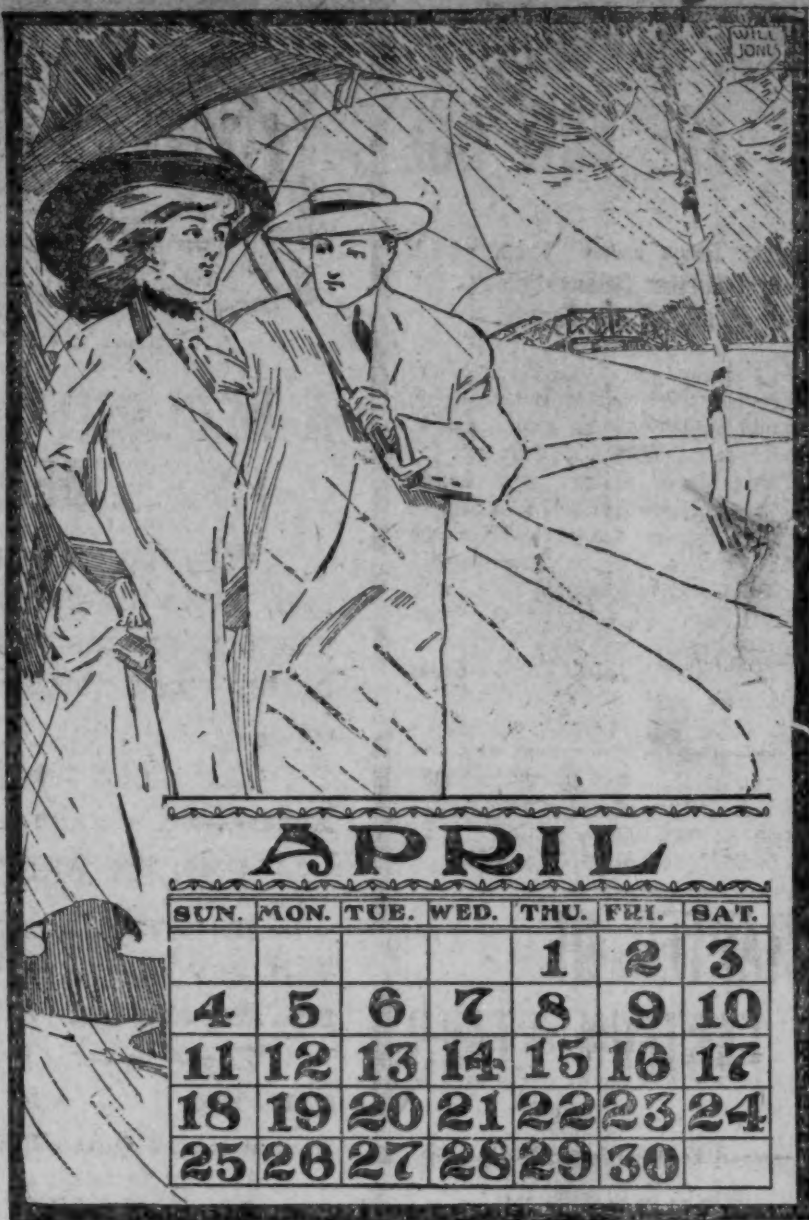

As an example of the success, letters were sent to billboard advertisers, who were asked if they would not agree, with others, to abandon the boards, and sixty advertisers so agreed. The advertising thus terminated affected 300 boards.

Illustrated postcards, showing some especially offensive boards, were mailed to club members, and one of the results was that several property owners voluntarily agreed to remove the objectionable boards from their property.

In the campaign for a state measure the co-operation of civic associations in other municipalities of Ohio was solicited, and most of the 120 such organizations promised support. J. W. Rogers, superintendent of parks, forcibly removed 1,000 feet of billboards twelve feet high standing on Inwood park property after repeated notice to the billboard owners. A prominent builder showed his sympathy with the crusade by notifying billboard owners that he would not renew contracts. The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra association decided to encourage the fight against boards to advertise its concerts.

In the campaign for the restriction of billboards in the new building code a significant case of reduction of values because of billboard intrusion was shown. The Stribley property in Gilbert avenue was purchased for $7,000, but when sold, after a vast spread of signs had been erected facing it, only $4,000 could be obtained.

When Mr. Shipley conducted the crusade for municipal regulation of billboards, leading to the councilmanic hearing, dozens of prominent men of Cincinnati openly urged the restriction of billboards, the names of indorsers as published requiring almost a column of the Cincinnati newspapers.

RESULT OF THE BOTTLE ON OLD SOLDIER

John Goodall, of the Soldiers' Home, Grand Rapids, Mich., firmly believes that he owes his happiness and good health to the bottle and that this bottle is a happy end to all his former troubles. He made a statement which is given word for word: "I wish to let those suffering with rheumatism know what Rheumaline has done for me. I have had rheumatism for about six years and have tried a number of rheumatic remedies without getting any benefit. I am happy to say that one bottle of Rheumaline has done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I am entirely free from pain and I can recommend it to any one suffering with rheumatism." Six years of suffering ended with one bottle. Think of it. If it can kill rheumatism of a man whose rheumatism has undoubtedly been brought about by years of severe exposure, what can it do for you? Use reason. Don't allow prejudice to overcome your better judgment. Rheumaline cures rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, gout and kidney, liver, bladder, stomach and blood troubles, caused by uric acid. TO TAX ALL DIVIDENDS

Reported That Ways and Means Committee Will Recommend Amendment Calculated to Raise Revenue Originally Intended to Come From Tax on Tea and Lumber—James J. Hill Holds Conference With Cannon and Other Leaders on Tariff.

Washington, April 1. — A compromise is to be agreed to by the various factions on the Republican side of the house regarding the consideration of the Payne tariff bill, and it is confidently expected that the measure will be voted upon on April 10.

There was a noticeable disposition on the part of the "stand-patters," following their conference with President Taft, to accede to the wishes of those who have opposed any "gag" rule which would prevent a vote on certain important schedules. The ways and means committee has agreed to submit amendments to the bill which will keep ten on the free list, strike out the countervailing duty on coffee and make the rate on barley 25 cents a bushel.

The Republican members of the Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin delegations held conferences, each delegation deciding upon the schedules on which they demand that the special rule shall provide for a vote. Most of the members of these delegations desire an increased tax on beer and the lowering of the duties on gloves and hosiery. Some wish the repeal of the provision for an inheritance tax. It is said that the ways and means committee may report an amendment which will provide for a tax on all dividends from stocks and bonds. This has been proposed as a means for raising the $10,000,000 which it is estimated the Payne bill would provide through the tax on tea and lumber.

The ways and means committee further considered the amendments which it will offer to the bill. The tariff commission committee met several members of the committee to discuss the proposition which they advocate. James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, called on Speaker Cannon and informally discussed the tariff with him and with members of the tariff framing committee and Representative Tawney of Minnesota. Mr. Hill is understood to be in favor of repealing the duty on lumber, but would not express himself for publication.

It is now believed a rule will be brought in Monday to provide for the consideration of the Payne bill under the five-minute rule until the following Saturday, when it will be voted upon.

PICK BILL TO PIECES

Many Representatives Discuss Payne Tariff Schedules.

Washington, April 1. — The Payne tariff bill again was picked to pieces in the house of representatives. There were no prolonged speeches, and in consequence many were afforded an opportunity to express their views. Lumber, coffee, wood pulp and print paper, tobacco, coal, zinc and the bill were generally discussed.

The arguments on lumber came from the south through Mr. Pujo of Louisiana and Mr. Thomas of North Carolina, who did not want the protection afforded the lumber industry disturbed. There was an interesting exposition of the wood pulp question by Mr. Mann of Illinois, who defended the proposed reduction of the duty on that product.

Mr. Larrinaga, the Porto Rican commissioner, made an exhaustive plea for a tax of 5 cents a pound on coffee from that colony. Others who spoke were Messrs. Morgan of Missouri, Brantley of Georgia, Douglas of Ohio, Rothermel of Pennsylvania, Lovering of Massachusetts, Sulzer of New York, Mondel of Wyoming and Griest of Pennsylvania.

FIFTEEN BONDS ARE NOW DUE

County Judge Evans Prepared to Still Further Reduce Indebtedness of the County.

At the meeting of the Clark Fiscal Court last week bonds amounting to $16,000 and coupons amounting to $4,680 were paid and destroyed.

These were six per cent bonds and were issued in 1885. Fifteen more of the same date and for the same purpose fell due Thursday of this week and will be paid by County Judge Evans as soon as they are presented.

The county has still $64,000 4 per cent bonds now out. They were issued when the county took over all the turnpikes in the county and will fall due as follows: $7,000 in 1917; $7,000 in 1918; $10,000 in 1925; $10,000 in 1926; $10,000 in 1927; $10,000 in 1928 and $10,000 in 1929.

TO CLOSE CONTRACTS FOR RENTING ROOMS.

Joint Trustees of Fraternity Building To Meet Friday Night.

A joint meeting of the trustees of fraternity building will meet Friday night in the County Clerk's office for the purpose of closing some contracts for the rental of office rooms in the new fraternity building. A number of the rooms have already been spoken for and the trustees think it will only be a short time before they are all taken.

Grown-Up Children.

It is not only the frivolous whom the spirit of childishness is just now leading astray. Stiffness is the fashion even among the wise. Women especially affect a kind of childish shrewdness in talking of serious subjects. Like children who have the habit of romancing, they lose the sense of reality, and because they never talk exactly as they think they begin to think exactly as they talk.—London Spectator.

Possibilities or a Moment.

We cannot speak a loyal word and be meanly silent; we cannot kill and not kill in the same moment; but a moment is room wide enough for the loyal and mean desire, for the outlash of a murderous thought and the sharp backward stroke of repentance.—George Eliot.

From "Guesses at Truth."

Some men treat the God of their father as they treat their father's friend. They do not deny him; by no means; they only deny themselves to him, when he is good enough to call upon them.—J. C. and A. W. Hare.

Not Improbable.

"I don't know how true it is," said the Irishman, "but they tell me that the dime museum bearded lady just died and left a wife and four children."

Philosophical.

A girl with freckles feels just as philosophical about them as the man does about being in a stock market panic.—New York Press.
